WVT Communications Empowers Business

A Century-Old Law Firm With 21st Century Capabilities

The firm of Bonacic, LoBiondo & Krahulik has evolved into one of the most progressive law offices in the Hudson Valley – and WVT Communications has enabled that evolution decade after decade. "Our relationships with large institutional clients are typically reserved for bigger practices in New York and Washington DC," says principal Bob Krahulik. "Technology gives us skill sets unique to this region. WVT has networked our three local offices with our affiliate firm in Long Island, enabling video conferencing over DSL. It's remarkably effective and affordable."

"We've had a long association with WVT. I can access critical information at home or the office any time. WVT's service is excellent, and they do an outstanding job with security. Now as they're getting ready to roll out Voice over IP services, we want to be an early Beta site."
